

BUILD UPDATE · NO. 02 · MAY 2026

Deliver the whole job.

Two new pieces take Dispath past 'get paid' — to delivering the work and turning every happy client into your next one. Built for the way photographers and creatives actually work.

REPUTATION-SAFE REVIEWS

Why these two, now

A freelance tool that stops at 'invoice paid' is only half a tool. Galleries let you hand over the actual work. Reviews turn that finished job into proof that wins the next one. Together they close the loop — and they're the start of a sharper focus on creative professionals.

PART ONE

Client galleries

Deliver final photos, video, or any files to your client through a clean, no-login link — and attach it to the invoice they just paid.

Upload & deliver LIVE

Drag in finals from the dashboard — images, video, PDF, or zip. Each gallery gets a private, 256-bit share link. The client opens it with no account, sees a clean grid, and downloads individual files or the whole set.

Stored on Cloudflare R2 · streamed through the Worker · $0 egress means unlimited client downloads cost nothing

Attached to the money LIVE

Link a gallery to the invoice it belongs to. The moment a client pays, 'Download your gallery' is right there — the deliverable and the payment in one flow, not three different apps.

Reuses the same client-portal token system as proposals, contracts, and invoices

Yours to control LIVE

Publish when ready, unpublish anytime, set an expiry, delete a file or the whole gallery. Free plan includes a gallery and 2GB; Pro unlocks unlimited galleries and 100GB.

Private bucket · token + expiry enforced on every read · deletes sweep storage clean

PART TWO

Reviews that protect you

After a client pays, Dispatch asks them for a review — automatically, and in a way that can never blow up your public reputation.

Rating-gated routing

LIVE

The client taps a star. Four or five? They're invited to share a public testimonial. Three or fewer? It routes to private feedback that only you see — never published anywhere. Enforced on the server, not just the screen. That's why you can safely leave it on.

The single detail that makes auto-asking trustworthy for a solo business

Ask on autopilot

LIVE

Fires when an invoice is fully paid — through Stripe or a manually recorded payment. Sends a few days later (you choose), with one tap to start. Guards prevent double-asking, tiny invoices, and pestering the same client twice.

Honors a per-client cooldown and a minimum-invoice threshold you set

A growing wall of proof

LIVE

Published testimonials become an asset you own — soon to appear on your public profile and feed the referral loop. Every finished job quietly compounds into the next one.

Public profile display ships next

WHAT'S NEXT

Where this is heading

Order, not timeline — each ships when it's actually good.

NEXT Galleries, phase 2

Multi-gigabyte bulk uploads, one-click 'download everything' as a zip, faster thumbnails, and uploading straight from the iPhone.

NEXT Reviews on your profile

Published testimonials rendered on a hosted profile page — your public home and lead intake.

NEXT Sharper for creatives

Model-release templates, deposit scheduling, and a shoot-day view. Dispatch is leaning into the people it fits best.

NEXT On your phone

The native iOS app continues — galleries, reviews, and the full money loop, built for the way you work between jobs.
